

The feedbacks of the residents

1. Having other imaging priorities to make diagnosis more clear

- (1) Computed tomography (CT) can provide more clues for diagnosis;
- (2) The formal CT report can be obtained;
- (3) Arranging CT is faster than I was performing sonographic examinations.

2. No suitable patients for examinations

- (1) I encountered patients without abdominal symptoms during this month;
- (2) I managed many patients with pneumonia and cellulitis.

3. No confidence with the use of ultrasound

- (1) I have performed sonographic examinations for 1-2 times but I did not put it into the chart.
I thought I did not do well.
- (2) The ED workflow was rush. I did not have confidence to use ultrasound.
